

NAME OF JOE
LOUIS ENTERS
HOFFA CASE

Washington (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) said today he has a report that former heavyweight champion Joe Louis was paid $2,500 to sit for two hours at the recent bribery trial of James R. Hoffa, Midwest Teamsters Union official.

Hoffa was acquitted of the charge by a jury made up of eight Negroes and four white persons. Members of the jury said in later interviews that the racial issue had not entered into their decision.

McClellan told Hoffa about the report as the Teamsters boss started a third day of quizzing by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee about his alleged links with New York racketeers. The Arkansas senator heads the committee.

Hoffa replied: "If he was, he wasn't paid by Hoffa."

McClellan asked Hoffa to check to see whether any Teamsters funds were used to pay Louis an appearance fee.

It was Hoffa's third day in the witness chair, and the committee promised to play more wire-tapped telephone conversations of purported conversations with New York racketeers.

The committee contends that Hoffa formed an alliance several years ago with Johnny Dio to enhance Hoffa's power in the New York area.

Hoffa is odds-on choice to succeed Dave Beck as president of the 1½-million member Teamsters Union, largest in the nation.

Dio, a convicted extortionist, is now in jail awaiting sentence. He has long had a reputation as a racketeer.

Already in evidence is one recorded phone talk between Hoffa and Dio, back in February 1953, in which they called each other "Jim" and "Jack." The recording was made by New York police under court order.

Exchange Student at Play!

Miss Vilamin Benedicto (at right) exchange student at Warren High School for the coming year, did not take long to get in the American swing of things at the lively Ross family home on Thomas Street in North Warren where she arrived yesterday. She will spend the year with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ross and twin daughters, Pril and Pat. "Vil's" one-word, first impression of America: "Wonderful."

CAMP ROBBERIES IN FOUR-COUNTY
AREA CLEARED UP BY THREE ARRESTSDEM LEADERS
COOL TOWARD COMPROMISE

By EDMOND LE BRETON
Washington (AP)—Democratic congressional leaders were reported cool today to a new Republican proposal for breaking the deadlock over civil rights.

At the same time, Republican leaders were said to be in the mood to revise their proposal somewhat in an effort to win Democratic support.

There appeared considerable doubt that the two sides would get together, at least for the present, on some formula to get the stalled bill moving toward final passage.

The GOP proposal would give federal judges limited powers to punish for criminal contempt in voting rights cases, without a jury trial.

House Republican Leader Martin of Massachusetts unveiled the Republican plan yesterday after President Eisenhower had told newsmen it was coming. Eisenhower endorsed it.

After a breakfast conference with the President today, Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California declined to predict whether the GOP compromise would be acceptable in the Senate.

"Until we find out whether it is acceptable in the House there is not much point in discussing it in the Senate," Knowland said.

The GOP proposal would give judges sole discretion to decide whether there should be a jury trial in voting rights cases in which a person is accused of criminal contempt for violating a court injunction.

38-Year-Old County Man and Teen-
Age Girl Lookout Are in Custody

State Trooper Sergeant Donald Holmes, Sheriff Larry Linder and District Attorney Myer Kornreich (left to right above) examine a small part of the "thousands of dollars" of loot which was taken in the series of hunting camp thefts which were cleared up this week with the arrest of two Southwest Township men and their 17-year-old girl accomplice. Part of this loot, consisting of many rifles, power saw, luggage, blankets, and clothing, was found at the Grand Valley home of one of the trio's mothers. She said she didn't know the stuff was stolen. Much other loot was "fenced" in Ohio, while one TV set was disposed of in Vermont. Additional items are expected to turn up in a canvass of pawn shops in Maryland, New York, Vermont, New Hampshire, Delaware and Rhode Island, as well as Pennsylvania.

The greatest series of thefts in this area since the famed "Phantom Burglar" epidemic of a decade ago was cleared up this week with apprehension of a 38-year-old Grand Valley man, his teen-age girl friend lookout and a third man wanted for parole violation.

Charles Allen, 38, of RD Grand Valley was arrested Sunday night in Titusville after making his final mistake in a series of 40 camp robberies which had plagued a four-county area since late March.

District Attorney Myer Kornreich said today that Allen and his companion, Albert Mylo Robshaw, 23, also of RD Grand Valley would be charged with burglary after arraignment this weekend. The 17-year-old girl will be turned over to juvenile authorities.

The loot, estimated at "thousands of dollars" by Sheriff Larry Linder, consisted of rifles, clothing, luggage, power tools, television sets and anything else moveable from hunting lodges. The teen-age girl, who had been Allen's companion since he jumped bail on a larceny charge last December, was wearing one of the stolen dresses when apprehended with Allen in Titusville. Both admitted their guilt.

The third member of the theft ring, Albert Mylo Robshaw, will be familiar to crime-stoppers as the man who was shot in the leg in Southwest Township last year as he attempted to escape a constable who was picking him up on a larceny count. Robshaw was arrested yesterday in Revanna, Ohio where it was thought the trio may have "fenced" much of their loot.

Solution of the five months of camp burglaries in Warren, Forest, Venango and Crawford County was brought about through close cooperation of Warren County Sheriff's Department and State Troopers of the local barracks.

Sheriff Linder pointed out with a wry smile that it was investigation of these thefts amounting to thousands of dollars which was interrupted when his expense money was withheld by Commissioners in June, when many of the burglaries took place. It had been the month where the number of necessary investigations had boosted expenses to a high level.

As it turned out, Allen finally made the mistake which definitely incriminated himself.

Close cooperation between county law enforcement agencies was given credit for the solution. Sheriff Linder and Chief Deputy Don Allen of the Sheriff's Department worked closely together with Sgt. Donald Holmes, Cpl. Joe Mastrian and Troopers Jack Krupiec and William Timmons.

Final break in the case came about three weeks ago when Allen made the final mistake which was his undoing. While climbing into the hunting camp of Raymond Grilhart in Triumph Twp. through a window, the burglar cut himself. Allen removed the gloves he customarily wore and left several bloody finger-prints which were identified as his.

Allen had been under suspicion for some time since plaster casts taken of footprints at the burglary scenes, showed the criminal to have only a size 5½ shoe. Allen, who stands 5 feet, 4 inches immediately disappeared about supper time and his crying was heard half an hour later from the bottom of the well.

For a while after he was found, he was silent. But as volunteers rallied in for a desperate attempt to reach the boy in time, he began a wailing that at least was reassurance he was still conscious. Oxygen was forced down the hole to him.

His mother Mrs. Fred Smith kept up a reassuring conversation with the lad as the rescuers started to sink a shaft parallel to the hole. All others were kept away from the top of the hole to prevent possible cave-ins around the mouth.

The ground is hard clay soil and there was no problem of earth slides or collapsing walls such as have plagued other rescuers in similar emergencies.

SHOWDOWN
AID DELAYED

By ERNEST B. VACCARO
Washington (AP)—Democratic leaders kept President Eisenhower guessing today over how much of his battered foreign aid money bill may be salvaged. They postponed a showdown in the Senate Appropriations Committee.

With the House involved in maneuvering over the controversial civil rights measure, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas appeared in no hurry to have the mutual security appropriations bill come up in the Senate.

Senate Republican Leader Knowland and Eisenhower discussed the measure at a breakfast conference today. Knowland told reporters it had been mentioned in a general review of the legislative situation, but did not elaborate.

The Appropriations Committee turned to working on an atomic energy appropriations bill amid indications it will put off further action on foreign aid, probably until Monday.

Chairman Hayden (D-Ariz.) said some of the committee members (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Witness Says Magazine
Stories Substantiated

By JACK LEFLER

Los Angeles, (AP)—Investigators for Confidential magazine substantiated stories about singer Dorothy Dandridge and actress Mae West with signed statements from the men involved, a defendant in the libel trial has testified.

Fred Meade, who with his wife, Marjorie, operated Hollywood Research, Inc., said yesterday that bandleader Dan Terry gave him an affidavit about a purported affair with Miss Dandridge. Meade said this was the basis for a Confidential story entitled "What Dorothy Dandridge Did in the Woods."

And Meade said he and private detective Barney Ruditsky obtained a statement from the late boxer Chalky Wright that he lived in an apartment with Miss West for a year. The Confidential story was titled "Mae West's Open Door Policy."

Hike in Living Cost
For July Is Reported

Washington (AP)—The cost of living rose ½ of 1 per cent, during July, the government reported today. It was the 11th consecutive monthly advance.

Food prices rose by 1 per cent, the Labor Department said, carried the consumer price index to a record at 120.8 per cent of the 1947-49 level.

A department spokesman said about 1,300,000 workers will get wage increases of 1 to 6 cents, with the bulk of them getting a 3-cent-an-hour raise. These are workers whose pay contracts have an escalator clause tied to the index.

Food prices went seven-tenths of a per cent above the previous record peak of August, 1952, and 2.3 per cent above the level of a year ago.

Bill Providing for Studies on Nuclear Reactors Is Signed

By JOHN A. HARRIS

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower has signed an atomic energy construction bill authorizing preliminary studies on nuclear power reactors to be built by the government.

Senate Democrats had proposed a reactor construction program over administration protests. When the authorization legislation finally was passed Tuesday, it contained no provision for actual construction of the disputed reactors, but only planning authority.

In a statement issued yesterday when he signed the bill, Eisenhower said the measure is a great improvement indeed over bills introduced early in the session to build and operate a number of full scale power reactors at a cost for construction alone of 400 million dollars of public money.

About the time that statement was issued, the House passed and sent to the Senate an appropriations bill which would provide the actual funds for projects contained in the authorization bill signed by the President.

The Senate Appropriations Committee takes up the money bill today.

Health Official Says Output
Of Flu Vaccine Is Speeded Up

University Park (AP)—The U. S. surgeon general hopes that a 24-hour production schedule will make enough Asiatic flu vaccine available for 60 million inoculations by late winter.

Addressing the closing general session of the 6th annual State Health Conference, Dr. LeRoy E. Burney said that state public health and medical groups will urge the vaccination of key groups according to priorities established by individual states.

"It is hoped that a nationwide epidemic in the winter of 1957-58 can thus be averted," he declared. Authorities have already warned that the flu virus threatens to reach epidemic proportions in this country this winter.

"The vaccine is already becoming available in small amounts for the civilian population and there is real hope that at least 60 million cubic centimeters will have been released by Feb. 1," Burney's address stated. It was read for him by Dr. David Price, assistant surgeon general.

Each inoculation requires one centimeter of vaccine. Dr. Burney advised that the quickest way to avert an epidemic is to promote widespread vaccination. He said authorities are in much better position to combat the threat of an epidemic as a result of the preliminary planning that has been done.

DROWNS IN BATH TUB

London Parley
Failure Seen
By Washington

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, (AP)—U. S. officials expect the London disarmament talks to recess in about two weeks without agreement for ending the East-West arms race.

President Eisenhower's new concession to Russia on suspending nuclear tests is regarded here as improving the Western positions for negotiating and propaganda. But it does not appear to have broken the basic deadlock.

A White House statement yesterday announced Western readiness to accept conditionally a two-year—instead of a 10-month—suspension of tests. This statement implied that the Soviet Union must now make concessions.

There have been no indications the Soviet Union will make any important gesture soon.

On the contrary, Soviet Delegate Valerian Zorin told American, (Turn to Page Sixteen)

Four Fire Calls in Twenty-One-Hour Period

Most rousing of four fire calls of the past 21 hours came about 3 a. m. this morning when North Warren and Glade Township volunteers answered a call to the E. P. Chester home on Hatch Run Road where a shed was burning.

The fair-sized wooden building was a total loss and four puppies were killed in the flames. The building, formerly tenanted by humans, was currently being used to kennel dogs. No damage estimate was immediately available, nor was the cause.

Warren firemen were called out at 9:45 this morning when a grease splatter from a Texas Lunch stove burst into flames and spread to a nearby ventilator. Firemen put out the flames in short order with carbon dioxide. Counterman Richard Grubbe reported smoke damage.

At 4 p. m. Wednesday, firemen answered what was termed a false alarm at United Redway where it was thought an alarm box may have shorted.

Fourth call of the 21-hour period came earlier yesterday afternoon when a fornicia application substance burst into flames at 1500 Pennsylvania avenue, east.

Demonstrations in Levittown Nearing End

Levittown (AP)—There were signs today that the week-long demonstrations against the first Negro family in this eastern Pennsylvania housing development were nearing an end.

For the first time in nine nights, no crowds gathered last night to voice their protest over the presence of William E. Myers Jr. and his family.

State Police Maj. William Ruch said violence might be at an end, but his men will remain as long as necessary.

The Bristol Township commissioners met last night without taking action on a request by Township Police Chief John R. Stewart that a curfew be imposed on children 16 and under.

It would take 20 days for a curfew ordinance to become effective, under township law, and apparently the commissioners felt the need for a curfew would have ended before then.

PENNSY REPORT

Philadelphia (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad announced yesterday a net income for the first seven months of this year of $13,306,983, or $1.01 a share compared with $22,452,019 and $1.70 for the same period last year.

Valuable Gold Coin Is Found in Parking Meter

Pittsburgh (AP)—The city treasury has hit the jackpot with one of its parking meters.

A valuable gold coin was found yesterday among the nickles collected from parking meters.

"Whoever put it in a meter either made a mistake or thought it was a slug," said City Treasurer David A. Smith.

Smith declined to give the value of the coin or describe it, except to say "it's worth more than a nickle."

The city is willing to return the coin to its owner if he can properly describe it—and upon payment of a nickle for parking.

Senator Opposes a General's Rank for Movie Actor Stewart

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Washington, (AP)—Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) today takes her fight against a general's rank for movie actor James Stewart to the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Mrs. Smith for several months has blocked committee action on Stewart's nomination to be a brigadier general in the Air Force Reserve. She contends the screen hero and others on an 11-man promotion list did not properly fulfill reserve training requirements.

Nominees for two Pentagon posts—Paul D. Foote to be assistant secretary of defense and Richard D. Jackson to be an assistant secretary of the Navy—were called for questioning in public. A closed session was arranged for later to consider the reserve nominations.

President Eisenhower on Feb. 23 sent the names of Stewart and 10 other air reservists to the Senate for confirmation as brigadier or major generals. Stewart was a World War II combat pilot and now has a reserve colonel's commission.

Sen. Smith, herself a lieutenant colonel in the Air Reserve and chief sponsor of recent reserve legislation, opposed the promotion from the beginning.

She said Stewart is a friend and she admires his acting ability and wartime service. But she contended the movie star did not meet reserve training requirements until his proposed promotion to general. She said rules for promotion of lower ranking reservists also should apply to nominees for general.

Above photo shows the smile on the face of Charles J. Lamb, of Miami, Fla., better known to his old-time Warren friends as "Charley", when he dropped in to the Times-Mirror office for a chat while "just passing through" from Canada to his southern home Tuesday. Charley was a restaurant owner in this city until he sold out and pulled up stakes 35 years ago to try his fortune in Florida, and according to all accounts he's made good in a big way. Presently he has a supervisory position with National Standard Life Insurance Co., in Miami, with about fifty agents under him. When in Warren the other day he said he was about an hour late for a luncheon appointment with a cousin in Spartanburg, where he resided earlier in life. At one time Charley owned the eating house at 242 Pennsylvania avenue west, now occupied by Penn Restaurant. He says he purchased it from George Jackson, who is believed to have been the original owner. Times-photo.

Reports on 'Accidents During Past School Term Are Made by Solicitor to Meeting of Board

If there is no proof of negligence, there is no liability.

That was the conclusion drawn by school solicitor R. Pierson Eaton last evening after he had delivered a report on school responsibility before an adjourned meeting of Warren Borough School Board.

Attorney Eaton was asked to submit the report after two accidents in local schools caused two pupils injuries. In the first instance, a seat at Seneca School tipped over on a child, inflicting injuries which needed about $50 worth of medical treatment. These costs were paid by insurance carried by the school system, according to superintendent Dr. Carl E. Whipple.

The second injury occurred in shop when a student buffing a piece of plastic had a splinter tossed into his eye. Insurance company is willing to settle on this, said the superintendent, but the family has not yet agreed on terms.

No school negligence was proved in either case. In the first mishap, it was a heavy, well-seated school desk which tipped onto the child in an unusual accident. In the second instance, students using a buffer are asked to wear goggles.

In other action, the Board agreed to pay half the costs of oiling Marion street; heard that 1,748 elementary pupils will trek back to kindergarten through sixth grade on September 4th; acknowledged that $1,001 had accrued from the Beaty, Smith and Parmlee Funds from last September through July, 1957; authorized employment of reading specialists for three days to help with the remedial program; Recognized that Ronald Howard had attained his master's degree by raising his salary $200; accepted Miss Margaret Orcutt's resignation from Jefferson first grade and employed Miss Shirley Kunselmann; noted receipt of $210 from state Civil Defense for flood damages last year to McClintock and Seneca schools; authorized use of guidance specialists from Penn State to meet at Beaty for help with Beaty Fund program; approved appearance of Jerome Paul, maintenance manager, at a safety conference in Harrisburg Sept. 18-19;

Continued Fred Bell as tennis and ice skating instructor and John Stachowiak as Spot supervisor; authorized use of buildings during school year by boy scouts, girl scouts, Y. M. C. A.

Flood Protection Measures on Indian Hollow and Upper Glade Run Planned This Fall

Flood protection measures along Indian Hollow and upper Glade run are definitely in the works for this fall, according to a statement yesterday to Borough Manager George Geracimos by C. H. McConnell, chief of division of flood control in Department of Forests and Waters, who flew in from Harrisburg to give final approval to flood protection measures already taken along lower Glade Run which flows through United Refinery property.

McConnell said he had already dictated dates when various projects would begin and that he would send Geracimos a more definite starting time for the local measures.

After McConnell gave formal approval to the concrete channel, outburst pipes and check dam on lower Glade Run, maintenance of what was $50,000 worth of flood protection was turned over to the borough.

Proposed protective measures for the remainder of the two streams calls for widening of upper Glade, with perhaps two concrete walls to funnel flow at the so-called "bottle-neck". A final decision on which of three proposals would best suit Indian Hollow has not yet been made.

Cost of all the protection measures was expected to exceed $200,000 in first estimates.

Much consternation was caused in late July and August of 1956 when torrential rains caused flood damage along the entire length of both channels and nearby areas. However, it was pointed out at that time that such deluges were contrary to nature and complete control of such floods would be prohibitively expensive.

To date this year there has been no recurrence of the general flooding, except in a few scattered instances. Damage then was nominal.

Watermelons, which originated in Africa, were first brought to U. S. shores by Massachusetts colonists in the late 1620's.

Northern Area Board Committees Busy Planning for Coming Term

Working behind-the-scenes to make ready the facilities of the various buildings for start of the 1957-58 term, Northern Area Joint School Board committees are holding last-minute meetings to work out details.

Ways and means committee members met Tuesday of this week to initiate consideration of a number of long-range problems confronting the school system; the health and athletics committee will convene next Monday to consider further new legislation governing the basic student health program for fourth class school districts and the system's full responsibility for its conduct.

Following extended discussion at the regular board meeting, the entire matter, including selection of medical and dental inspectors, was placed in the hands of this committee.

Another serious matter which came before the August board meeting was the problem of student distribution and consideration of the maximum educational good for each child.

CROSS OVER THE BRIDGE!
Elmhurst's
"Warren's Best Center"
Pleasant Township

Supervising Principal Everett Landin presented a study of the anticipated student load and summarized distribution. His report indicated attendance at Eisenhower High School is expected to approximate 500 pupils when the term opens, with 740 in elementary grades.

Assignment will tentatively follow last year's plan, with the exception that grade students of Sugar Grove borough shall report to the Sugar Grove building. Bus students in Sugar Grove township, traveling in buses serving Slison Hill and Turnpike area, Catlin Hill and Jamestown road area, Rounds Hill and Lander road area, will go to Lander Grade School.

Administrators were charged with the duty of carefully studying the final enrollment picture and making such changes in building loads as are necessary and workable.

It was also announced Warren County School Board is assuming the initiative for opening in the Russell Grade School a program of special education. Under Mrs. Lela Bliss, formerly at Lander Grade School, this group will include exceptional students from all the jointure's elementary buildings, using existing bus schedules.

Mr. Landin's report also included provisions of the new version of Article XIV, Act of March 10, 1949, which resulted from the state legislature's repeal of the article as first enacted and replacement with the recently-passed Senate Bill 118.

President Travers Stohlberg conducted the monthly session, Secretary Hazel Kays read the minutes, bills of $818.34 for elementary and $3,700 for secondary schools were approved for payment.

It was also arranged for member-districts to deposit with the joint board's treasurer their share of the annual rental payment due the State Public School Building Authority, so that it may be remitted before the October 1st due date.

Of the $81,024.36 total, Farmington is liable for $17,178.15; Pine Grove, $31,732.18; Sugar Grove Union, $32,116.03, each district receiving about 75% of this from the state by special payment during the winter.

Approval was given contracts for replacement of two existing buses with larger vehicles; it was decided to arrange with Pennsylvania Gas Company to install immediately gas service for cooking in the Sugar Grove School cafeteria; school hours used last year were retained.

It was officially decided the board accepts no responsibility for injuries received during the school program, curricular and extra-curricular, but parents are urged to protect themselves from such losses by purchase of low-cost student accident insurance available to all pupils at the beginning of each school year.

Next regular board meeting will be September 11.

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Letters to the editor must carry the complete name and address of the writer as an assurance of good faith. It is possible they should be typewritten, preferably double spaced and on one side of the paper. Pen names will be permitted at the editor's discretion. Letters of less than 250 words will be given preference, and all letters are subject to condensation and editing. Letters containing obvious misstatements or lacking in good taste and fair play will be rejected. All letters will be considered the property of the newspaper.

Dear Mr. Lowrey:

I read with interest the news release by the Warren County Commissioners which was published in the Warren Times-Mirror on August 14. It explained some of the questions which have been on the minds of many of Warren's taxpayers concerning the revaluation of tax assessments, but at least one other Pennsylvania county has provided its property owners with a letter of explanation which was more complete.

Will you please publish this as an open letter of our commissioners asking them for replies to the following questions:

1. Will the revised assessments include any personal property such as furniture or T-V sets?
2. Will a property owner's assessment be higher if he paints his house, paves his driveway, or plants shrubbery?
3. Will the man who visits an owner's property tell him what the appraisal or taxes will be?
4. How will the taxes lost to the county after the Kinzua dam is constructed be re-appportioned—among those properties then having less risk of flood, or over all the property owners of the county?
5. Will each assessment break down the appraised value between land and buildings?
6. Will rental property be as-essed on the same basis as that on which the owner lives?

These or similar questions have been answered by the commissioners of other counties. I think the taxpayers of Warren county are entitled to corresponding information.

Sincerely,
Name withheld upon request

I am happy to join Assemblyman Allen Gibson in praising the work done at Warren State Hos-

PERSISTENT SUITOR—Mrs. Anna Lambert, 72, pins a carnation on her husband, Camille, 74, as they arrive in New York from France aboard the Liberty. She first met Camille 55 years ago in a small Luxembourg village and turned down his marriage proposal. Both later married and their respective spouses died in the 1940's. On a visit this year to the old country to see relatives, Mrs. Lambert met Camille again and married him in March. They plan to visit one of Mrs. Lambert's married daughters in Iowa before settling down in Denver, Colo.

pital and in extending full credit for its accomplishments to Dr. Robert Israel and his staff, including those over 60 years of age.

I must, however, disagree with practically everything else he has to say.

He says, for example, that the budgets of the Welfare Department and Warren State Hospital have not been cut, but have been increased each biennium. That is true—provided you accept a budget set in 1953 when the per diem cost per patient was around $250 as adequate for 1959, when the per diem cost per patient will be more than double that.

Mr. Gibson says rather grandiloquently that the Department was given "so much money the past biennium, Shapiro and his staff were unable to spend it all." He does not mention the fact that, due to the extraordinary length of that session of the Legislature, no money was appropriated to the Department until 10 months after the beginning of the biennium.

At that point in his communication, Mr. Gibson throws logic to the winds which makes it difficult to answer him. He says, on the one hand, that the Department has not submitted final accounting figures for its operation in 1955-57.

But he says flatly that Warren State Hospital did not spend $400,000 of its 1955-57 appropriation and that the Department as a whole received in its 1957-59 appropriations $21,000,000 more than was actually expended in the last biennium. If the figures have not been submitted—and they have not—where did Mr. Gibson get them? As a matter of fact though we do not have the accurate figures, we do know that all of the money appropriated, approximately $6,000,000 will have been spent. That is within 3% of the estimated amount by the Secretary to be needed. I feel this to be pretty good judgment of a $2,000,000 program for a man who has had no experience with the Department before.

Mr. Gibson claims that a statement of mine burns him up. His burns me up. I have never said, as he claims, that any employee should be dismissed because of his age. I have said, and I repeat, that every employee of the State must give a full day's work for a full day's pay, because the money we handle is a public trust. Any employee who does not give that, regardless of whether he is 25 or 65, should and will be dismissed.

I am glad if Mr. Gibson can get such complete satisfaction as he seems to out of the fact that the last Legislature "fulfilled our promise to hold the line on taxes." I trust he will be made aware by the people at the proper time of the fact that he and his colleagues did this at the expense of the mentally ill and the mentally retarded people who, unfortunately, are seldom able to vote.

Sincerely yours,
Harry Shapiro

FOREIGN EXCHANGE MARKET

The American dollar is selling at a discount today to both the Canadian dollar and the German mark—for quite different reasons, says Sam Dawson, Associated Press feature writer in his column "Business Mirror."

In neither case is the strength of the U. S. dollar nor its first position among world currencies in question.

The Canadian dollar brings $1.06 in American money because the Canadian dollar is in short supply and great demand.

Americans want it for investment in Canadian securities and property. Many west Europeans are frightened by the shakiness of their own currencies and are putting their funds into Canadian or American securities or cash.

On the 90-day futures foreign exchange market the American dollar is selling at a five per cent discount from the German mark.

The German mark is so strong because it has a balance-of-payments surplus of more than five billion dollars (22 billion marks) in its foreign trade dealings with its neighbors.

Speculators in foreign currency and German exporters have been expecting a revaluation upward of the German mark. The German government has just taken pains to deny it has any plans for that.

Changes in currency valuation are customarily denied right up to the zero hour.

Foreign speculators have put many millions of dollars into German marks, thinking to make a quick profit of about 10 per cent if the mark is revalued upwards in terms of dollars—or to escape a loss if other European nations follow France's move toward devaluation of the franc.

The foreign exchange market is also seeing a flight from the English pound sterling to the Canadian dollar and the German mark. Talk of the possibility of devaluation of the pound has become so wide spread that the British government felt compelled to deny any such intention. But foreign traders don't want to hold either pounds or francs longer than they have to, just in case.

Matter Of Fact:

Civil Rights: The Political Reality

By STEWART ALSOP

Washington—Behind the shifting, complex, often fascinating drama of the struggle over civil rights, there is one simple political reality—the Negro vote in the key industrial states in the North. That is, of course, in hard political terms, what the fight has been all about.

To understand just how crucial the Negro vote is, consider three such key states—New York, Pennsylvania, and Illinois. It is almost inconceivable that any Presidential candidate could lose those three states and win an election. And in all three states, the Negro vote can be absolutely decisive.

According to the estimate of Louis Harris, a reliable political statistician, the Negro vote in these three states ranges from about 6 per cent of the total in Pennsylvania, to about 7.5 per cent in Illinois, with New York in the middle with about 6.5 per cent. Translated into actual votes for 1960, the next Presidential year, this works out to about 450,000 Negro votes in New York, 350,000 in Illinois, and 385,000 in Pennsylvania.

Now consider what has been happening to this Negro vote. In 1948 Harry S. Truman got at least 80 per cent of the Negro vote, according to reliable estimates, and probably more. The proposition could reasonably be defended that Truman owed his amazing triumph in that year to Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who forced a strong civil rights plank on the Democratic convention, and thus presented Truman with an almost solid Negro vote.

In 1952, Adlai Stevenson held the bulk of the Negro vote, polling better than three out of four votes among Negroes. But by 1956, partly in response to the Supreme Court decisions, there was a sharp drop-off in the Democratic pluralities. In New York state, for example, the Democratic Negro vote fell off to about sixty-three per cent. The Republicans thus took over a third of what had been an almost monolithic Democratic vote.

Now suppose that, as a result of the Administration's decision to press for a serious civil rights bill, the Republicans succeed in attracting half, or even somewhat less than half, of the Negro vote in the key Northern states. For the devastating effect on the political position of the Democrats, consider a couple of specific examples.

In 1954, Averell Harriman was elected Governor of New York by less than 15,000 votes over Sen. Irving Ives. According to Harris's analysis, Harriman polled a whopping seventy-nine per cent of the Negro vote. Negro votes thus supplied Harriman with his margin of victory several times over. Two years later, the Democrats had dropped some 90,000 Negro votes to the Republicans—or about six times the number of votes Ives needed to defeat Harriman.

Here and There

John Kwiatkowski and his buddy, Jim Hall, en route from their Navy base at Portsmouth, N. H., for a visit with the former's parents at Pittsfield, had the experience of traveling 650 miles without seeing a single accident until they reached the point on Route 6 where a Titusville girl was killed early Saturday morning. The boys were in the second car to arrive at the crash scene and turned back immediately to summon a Youngsville physician from his home.

Here's an item from The Evening Times of fifty years ago about the Carver House that makes interesting reading today, in view of new plans just announced for the Hotel: "The Carver House is now swarming over with workmen who are completing a large amount of interior work." Just what Carver House are you looking at? The workmen are working outside—now! "The hotel is being overhauled generally and the rooms refitted and decorated, and the task is not expected to be finished until about December 1st. An elevator has recently been installed and the exterior of the hotel painted. Mine Host Edwards and wife are now away purchasing equipment for the rooms, and they will be finely fitted up for the accommodation of guests. When all is complete the hotel will have about 75 rooms." Let's reduce that figure to present day standings—27 room hotel to rise from ashes of Carver House (Warren Times-Mirror, Friday, August 16, 1957) Oh, now I see what Carver House you were looking at! It was kind of hard to see 50 years ahead, wasn't it?

"Girls are always of opinion that collectively, men are bad. Most literature for the young inculcates this idea. The boy in the story always is cruel to cats, and breaks dolls to pieces, and then the beautiful girl cares for them and cries her heart out." We do feel sorry for the little dears—at least that's a good excuse for not giving her heart to anybody! "Eventually she marries the terror and reforms him." We believe that the weaker sex have been warned about marrying a man to reform him—just proves we aren't controlled by women! "When girls grow bigger they still believe that collectively the men are bad. Hence they occasionally band themselves together and take an oath never to marry a man who smokes, drinks or is profane. That holds good until the various members of the sisterhood meet a man individually. He may smoke, take an occasional tot, and say things when his tire is punctured, but the particular girl cannot see that he is bad. So she resigns from the club and the minister makes another marriage fee. Nor does the man ever afterwards cease from smoking, or taking one with the boys when there is a baby in the family, or from telling the stars what is the moral condition of a fellow who will spill tacks on the highway. Harper, Kansas, is the latest place to form one of those goody-good clubs among the girls, which is merely another way for the girls to tell the boys that they are willing to be married as soon as each finds a boy to her liking."—Warren Mirror, Saturday, August 21, 1897.

Convalescent Mamie Faces Strenuous Fall Schedule

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—As soon as it was determined that Mamie's operation was a complete success everyone from the last White House butler to Ike's top aides was overjoyed. Mamie's warm, easy-going understanding method of supervising the living conditions of the executive mansion has won her the deep affection of the whole staff.

Every day during her stay at Walter Reed Army Hospital almost every White House employee sent her a personal card or note urging a speedy recovery. Every time Ike drove out 16th St. to the hospital he and the Secret Service men would be asked to deliver some special cake, a little gift, or a bouquet of cut flowers from the White House garden which some member of the staff wanted Mamie to have.

She got a great kick out of this spontaneous expression of affection and sent a special message of thanks to each donor.

THE PUBLIC DEMONSTRATION of sympathy for the First Lady has put a staggering burden on the White House mailroom. Thousands of letters have been received from all over the U.S. and abroad.

When informed of the avalanche of mail she cried, "Oh dear, that's too bad because it means that I can't answer each one personally."

There has been the most prolific letter-writing First Lady in history. When it's humanly possible within her crowded schedule she insists on answering every letter she gets personally.

In addition to Mamie's ability as a housekeeper she has a great talent for keeping the President in good spirits. This probably accounts for some part of the general relief over her recovery among White House employees.

JUST THE SHORT time that Mamie was in the hospital the staff could tell the difference in the President's mood. He has a tendency to be snappish, anyway. But in Mamie's absence he roamed around the White House living quarters frequently in a state of some irritation. He displayed the Ike temper in the office, too, more than usual.

His mood probably reflected concern for the First Lady's health. But her natural gaiety is the best balm known for the President's disposition.

A relatively quiet summer, plus the Newport, R. I., vacation, are going to turn out to be good tonic for Mamie because she has a strenuous fall and winter season coming up.

The visit of England's Queen Elizabeth II, and her husband the Duke of Edinburgh, in October, will launch Mamie's heavy schedule for the coming months. The royal pair will be staying in the White House itself as guests of the Eisenhowers, instead of across the street in the official presidential guest house.

THIS WILL NECESSARILY cause Mamie extra work, which she will love to do. She's naturally gregarious and likes company. But she also insists on tending to such White House details in person, to make sure there are no slips in the hospitality.

No decision has been made yet about an official White House winter social season. Last winter there was only a limited budget for official receptions and dinners. It'll probably be about the same this winter.

If Ike had his say, however, it is suspected that the social season would be cut below what it was last year. Mamie, it is reported, has kept it as active as it has been. But even if there is no so-called official social season the First Lady must carry a heavy schedule of official duties such as appearing at luncheons and teas.

Oldtimers Gather for 30th Reunion Of One-Time Sugar Grove Seminary

Belated reports concerning the 30th reunion of former teachers, pupils and friends of Sugar Grove Seminary indicate this gathering was once again a very pleasant affair for all concerned.

The 2:00 p. m. program in the Seminary Chapel followed luncheon in the home economics building, when Mrs. Margaret Rowley Briggs offered grace.

Mrs. Blanche Pickard, president, conducted the formal portion of the meeting and extended the welcome; Judge George Jude gave the invocation; Mrs. Edna Duff accompanied group singing.

Secretary Mabel E. Dallas read the minutes, also the memorial list: Dr. E. J. Kelley, Mrs. Ellen Bergstrom Smith, Mrs. Mary Weiden Thorpe, Jennie Firth Keller, Ida Albro Schofield, Mary Miller Dalrymple, Maude Lillian Paterson, Carrie Lawson Laycock, Mrs. Mary Shutt Bovee, Mrs. Winifred Johnson Andersen and Mrs. Cora Reeves Jenner. All stood a moment in silent tribute.

The secretary also read letters from those unable to be present: Miss Irene Harrison, Mrs. Grace Wilson, Westwood, N. J.; Anna and Ida Falconer, Washington State; Inez M. Lawson, Wheeling, W. Va.; Mary Meredith Gubbe, Battieford, Saskatchewan; Mrs. Helen Temple, Waterbury, Chittenden, N. Y.; L. G. Burt, Tulsa, Okla.; W. O. Forman, Uniontown; Frederick S. Shaffer, Long Beach, Calif., and others.

Mrs. Herman Lounsbury, Ossining, N. Y., read two beautiful poems, "Don't Carry the Burden of Tomorrow" and "Step by Step"; several gave tributes to Dr. White, first president of the school.

Speaker was Everett Landin, of Northern Area School and one of Sugar Grove's own sons. He gave an enlightening story of the new high school, explaining 17 of its 49 teachers hold master's degrees; at least 16 courses are to be offered in winter adult education classes; and anticipated enrollment is 1,300, an increase of 100 over last year. He concluded by saying: "God created the church, school and

The Mature Parent

Feeling of Being Different Jars Child's Foundations

(Mrs. Muriel Lawrence is on vacation. In her absence, noted psychiatrist Eric Fromm discusses six frequently asked questions on child-parent relationships. His answers are condensed from his book, "Man for Himself," published by Rinehart and Co.)

Q. What makes a child feel he is "disappointing" his parents?

A. One particularly subtle form which the feeling of disappointing the parents frequently takes is caused by the feeling of being different.

Dominating parents want their children to be like them in temperament and character. The choleric father, for instance, is out of sympathy with a phlegmatic son; the father interested in practical achievements is disappointed in a son interested in ideas and theoretical inquiry, and vice versa.

If the father's attitude is proprietary, he interprets the son's difference from him as inferiority; the son feels guilty and inferior because of his being different and he tries to make himself into the kind of person his father wants him to be; but he succeeds only in crippling his own growth and in becoming a very imperfect replica of his father.

Since he believes he ought to be like his father, this failure gives him a guilty conscience. The son, in attempting to free himself from these notions of obligation and to become "himself," is frequently so heavily weighed down by a burden of guilt over this "crime" that he falls by the wayside before ever reaching his goal of freedom.

THE burden is so heavy because he has to cope not only with his parents, with their disappointment, accusations and appeals, but also with the whole culture which expects children to "love" their parents.

The foregoing description, though fitting the authoritarian family, may not seem to be correct as far as the contemporary American, especially the urban, family is concerned. But the picture I have given holds true, nevertheless, in its essential points.

Instead of overt we find anonymous authority expressed in terms of emotionally highly charged expectations instead of explicit commands. Moreover, the parents do not feel themselves to be authorities, but nevertheless they are the representatives of the anonymous authority of the market, and they expect the children to live up to standards to which the market and the children submit.

home, and we dedicate our school as an anchor in the past and a challenge for the future."

Mr. Landin was followed by Mrs. Myra Cory Guenter, Coryville, graduate in the Class of 1904. She gave a graphic picture of her recent trip to Europe, the gift of her son and daughter.

Elections resulted in renaming of the following: President, Mrs. Blanche Pickard; vice president, Judge G. W. Jude; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Mabel E. Dallas.

Following The Lord's Prayer and a hymn, "Bless'd Be the Tie," the group adjourned until the second Sunday in August, 1958.

MYSTERY NOW SOLVED ON SEWING MACHINES

For many years there has been much talk about whose sewing machine is best. Many salesmen have peddled sewing machines "door to door" and in many instances the lady of the house found herself buying a high priced article which she didn't really want and many times couldn't afford to buy. Why? Because she didn't know how to say no.

Well, times have changed. Montgomery Ward has taken the mystery out of sewing machines and high prices. Ward's new machines are guaranteed until 1977. Montgomery Ward's will give you an honest value for an honest dollar. They have no fancy "trade-in gimmicks" and don't want your old junk or worn out sewing machines.

Montgomery Ward prices are not inflated for fancy "trade-in deals". All customers pay the same at Montgomery Ward. Montgomery Ward will sell you a full size Round Bobbin Portable Machine for only $46.88 with a handsome carrying case. Ward's line of machines is complete and offers many styles of cabinets to choose from.

Montgomery Ward's swing needle zig zag is only $99.95 and not $199.95 like most nationally advertised zig zag machines, and not $149.95 like most Private labeled zig zag machines.

Our advice to the lady contemplating a purchase of a new or used sewing machine is "don't buy until you have seen Montgomery Ward's machine, and had a demonstration." Montgomery Ward in Warren has a big promotion now in progress on sewing machines, so hurry to Montgomery Ward's and see the new sewing machine marvel at prices that you can afford to pay.

Story of Haines House Is Related at Gathering

Sugar Grove—Allan H. Frank was guest speaker at the annual meeting of the combined women's societies of the Free Methodist, Methodist and Presbyterian missionary societies, held in the Presbyterian church.

Mr. Frank talked of mission work in Alaska and especially at Haines House, home for children conducted by the Presbyterian National Board. Mr. Frank and his family returned in June from Haines, where they were stationed for nearly three years.

Jimmie Frank showed slides for his father to illustrate the country and mission work. Among the pictures were some taken by Mrs. Frank, accompanied by her daughter, Sylvia, who drove the family car to Alaska over the Alcan highway.

Mrs. Clifford Storms presided at the meeting; Mrs. Jessie Saunders conducted devotions; Mrs. Gerald Miller was pianist. A social time with refreshments followed, Mrs. F. A. Schonover and Mrs. Scott Stuart, Sr., presiding at the table.

Women of the churches in charge of the meeting included Mrs. Theodore Allenson, Mrs. Lewis Peterson, Mrs. Carl Allenson, Mrs. Storms, Mrs. Saunders, Mrs. Gerald Younie and Mrs. Guy Summerson.

Benito Mussolini was named after Benito Juarez, a Mexican revolutionary.

Carolyn Howard of Port Allegany RD 2, the bridegroom's sister and maid of honor, was in ballerina length nile green taffeta, with matching headpiece and mitts. Flower girl was Linda Rothwell, identically gowned, and each carried a basket-shaped bouquet of yellow carnations.

The bride fashioned her wedding gown, mits and veil, as well as attendants' dresses; also the white taffeta pillow carried by the ring bearer and decorated with pearls belonging to the bride's great-grandmother.

Harold Howard, Port Allegany RD2, the bridegroom's brother, served as best man; ushers were Elton Hines, Reynoldsville, and Wayne Moyer, Erie. Christopher Howard, Port Allegany RD 2, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

The bride's mother chose a pink orlan two piece dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother, blue and white nylon jersey, black and white accessories, each with a corsage of white tea roses.

Praise Son's Wife to Win 'Nice Mother-in-Law' Title

"THE easiest way in the world for a mother-in-law to win the friendship of her daughter-in-law is to praise her in front of the son." So says one of my women readers.

Of course, she's right. And the praise needn't be blaring or seem forced.

When she is invited to dinner, the mother-in-law can ask for a recipe. That's just as easy as making a jabbed remark like, "These are wonderful steaks—but they must have cost an awful lot. When you've kept house as long as I have, you'll learn ways of using cheaper cuts of meat."

When the mother-in-law is shown a new piece of furniture she will admire it extravagantly, if she wants to be friends. Or she can make the mistake so many mothers-in-law make by saying: "I've never cared for modern furniture myself—but I guess it is what most young people like."

EASY TO BE NICE

IT'S easy for the mother-in-law to repeat compliments she has heard about her daughter-in-law. And if she is wise enough to repeat them when her son is around, she is sure to leave her daughter-in-law feeling appreciated.

It is just as easy to repeat a compliment as to relay a criticism. A mother-in-law can either give her daughter-in-law a build-up or tear her down.

It may be only human for a mother-in-law to want to show her son that Mama is still the smartest woman in his life.

But if she is really smart, the mother-in-law will try to keep her son sold on the idea that he married the smartest, most charming woman in the world.

HOT SEAT—It was hot in Hutchinson, Kan., so little Leslie Bray decided the way to escape the heat was to shed her clothes and go for a bike ride. However, judging from the expression on the face of the two-year-old miss, she discovers, her tricycle seat is too hot for a tender, bare bottom.

Or take another close race—the victory of Senator Joseph Clark of Pennsylvania over the Republican incumbent, Sen. James Duff, in 1956. Again, Clark just squeaked in, with a plurality of less than 18,000 votes. Clark, despite the Supreme Court, carried the Negro vote by a huge seventy-six per cent margin, which was worth about 150,000 votes to him. Suppose the Negro vote had dropped off as sharply in Pennsylvania as it did in Illinois, where it nose-dived from 75 per cent in 1952 to 53 per cent in 1956. Then Duff would be in the Senate, by a comfortable majority, and Clark would be practicing law.

Other examples could be cited, like that of Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois, who owes about sixty per cent of his 1954 plurality to the Negro vote. But the lesson is clear enough. If the Republicans can attract something approaching half the Negro vote in the Northern states, the Republican party will then be the normal majority party in those states.

Read the role of big states in which the Negroes can be expected to poll five percent or more of the total vote—not only New York, Pennsylvania, and Illinois, but such states as Michigan, Ohio, New Jersey, California. It then becomes clear what is at stake in the civil rights struggle—nothing less than the future balance of political power in the nation.

What is not clear is just how the Negro voters themselves have reacted to the complex, shifting struggle over civil rights. Have the Democrats been badly hurt in their eyes, and the Republicans greatly helped? Or is the result a stand-off? In an attempt to sense the answers to these questions, this reporter shortly plans an expedition to Harlem, the world's greatest Negro city, to talk about the civil rights issue with the Negro voters themselves.

Forestry Training Camp Is Attended By District Youths

Several area young men were among 29 from all over the Commonwealth attending a forestry training camp at Stone Valley, near State College, conducted by the Agricultural Extension Service of Penn State University and financed by member companies of the Pennsylvania Forest Industries Committee and other forest industries.

Sponsoring companies and the boys included the following:

Donald P. Brooks, pulpwood dealer of Sheffield—Thomas Dunn, Sheffield.

Endeavor Lumber Company—Shadrack Gibbons, Endeavor.

McMillen Lumber Company, Sheffield—Joseph Haser and Robert W. McMillen, Sheffield.

Norton Wood Products Company, Tidioute—Richard C. Jamieson, Tidioute.

Purpose of the camp was to give basic instruction to boys who expect to make a life's vocation of working in the woods. The boys learned about tree seeds and seedlings in a visit to Penn Nursery and saw one of the ultimate uses of timber in the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Mill at Tyrore. Other instructions included tree identification, tree felling, log marking, lumber tallying and grading, timber estimating, forest management, and woods safety.

Wild Life Notes

Jenny Wren Upholds Prophecy
During the recent Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge State Park, men engaged in natural resource management conducted groups of the boys through the Conservation Exhibit Areas. They explained to the Scouts the reasons behind the forest, fish and wildlife practices demonstrated there.

Donald E. Miller, a member of the Game Commission's Southeast Division office staff, was one of the guides. He reports "A part of the wildlife exhibit at the Jamboree was artificial homes and feeding stations for song and insectivorous birds. One display, a wren house, was occupied by a pair of wrens within two hours after being erected. Another, a blue bird house was accepted by a pair of bluebirds the second day after it was put up.

"In conducting one of the Scout groups through the area I mentioned the way these birds had added realism to the exhibit, and suggested the boys might hear the newly housed wrens singing in the vicinity. At this point, as if on cue, a wren burst forth in song."

Strange Shoppers in Erie
"Quite often," says Game Protector Roger Wolz, "a deer will cause a stir in the business district of the city of Erie. Surprising, perhaps, most of these 'shoppers' are males."

"Recently I was notified a buck deer was loaming through the city. Deputy Brandt and I located the animal in a vacant lot near Bucyrus-Erie plant. We finally managed the difficult job of driving the buck to nearby woods, where we hoped he would be relatively safe from highway traffic and other hazards."

Resourceful Wildlife Mother
Hard-to-believe events in the wildlife realm occur out of sight of man. When a person observes the result of an unusual occurrence and tries to reconstruct happenings leading to it, sometimes arrives at a strange conclusion. Take the case of the disturbed pheasant, as related in the following by Game Protector Harold Wiggins.

He says, "Early in June, Ralph Britt, who is in charge of the Game Commission pheasant chick program, and I visited a member of a Farm Game Project in Northampton County. The farmer related the following to us. About 2 p. m. the previous day the hired man was moving along a driveway to a field when he flushed and struck a hen pheasant. The only injury to the bird was loss of a few tail feathers. The man stopped and found a nest containing 14 eggs at the bird's take-off point. To save the nest he ceased mowing there."

"Informed of the incident the farm owner checked the nest at 5 p. m. and found all but 4 of the eggs gone. When the farmer returned to the spot two hours later no eggs were in the nest. Not having seen crows in the vicinity he examined the area closely. Under a large weed, about four feet from the original nest, he found a pheasant hen setting on 14 eggs. Britt and I also checked the area and found the form of the original nest in which there were no eggs or broken shells. We had to assume that the hen somehow moved the eggs the required distance to establish a new nest, where she could safely incubate."

Indians From Six Nations To Return to Old Hunting Grounds

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—Indians from the Six Nations of the Iroquois Confederacy will return to their old hunting grounds on Goat Island October 6 as chiefs participate in the dedication of an Indian village which will be the center of activities for the Maid of the Mist Festival.

Elton Green, grand chieftain of the Tuscarora Nation, will lead the poignant ceremonies at day-break in a prayer to the Great Spirit for guidance during the week-long festival. His Tuscaroras will be hosts to Indians from the confederacy and other tribes.

The village on Goat Island—the strip of land between the American and Horseshoe Falls—will consist of 30 wigwags, two loghouses and a stockade. The village is being constructed by Boy Scouts under the watchful eyes of the Tuscaroras.

Actually, the Maid of the Mist Festival will get underway the previous night, October 5, with a costume ball.

But the village, where admission-free events will be held each night for the run of the festival, will not be opened officially until Sunday, October 6.

Reigning over the festival from October 5 to 13 will be Miss Donna Waters, a 21-year-old Niagara Falls office worker who this summer was adopted into the Tuscarora Nation. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Waters, of Munster, Ind.

10P Chairman Says Control of Schools Belongs to People

Clarion, (P)—Republican state chairman, George I. Bloom feels the state's disapproval of plans for construction of a school in Allegheny County is "bureaucracy at its worst."

Speaking at a Clarion County 10P picnic yesterday Bloom said: "This complete denial of home rule is something that concerns the education of our children is one of the greatest threats we face to our way of life."

Bloom was referring to a department of Public Instruction proposal asking the Avalon School District to merge with other districts rather than build a new school addition.

Bloom said control of the schools must remain back home and called for repeal by the 1959 legislature of any law that gives the state the right to reject school building plans.

edged in the crack between a garage and a barbershop while following a cat.

Her overjoyed father, John Fahey, a New Haven Railroad brakeman, said Eileen, one of his five children, "is a chip off the old block. She's just like her grandmother, who pulled out of many tight spots."

Mrs. Fahey, under sedatives through the night, collapsed when old Eileen was found. She revived quickly when she was told the child was alive.

Police Sgt. Warren A. McQueeney held Eileen's hand while workmen labored to free her. He said the child cried and whispered "I'm cold." McQueeney said he assured her "honey, you'll be all right."

Police said the search was the biggest in the city's history. More than 200 policemen were joined by hundreds of volunteers.

Dr. Mary Walker, one of the first women to wear pants and other masculine clothing in public, was awarded the Medal of Honor for her services as a physician in the War Between the States.

38-Year-Old

ately came under suspicion but he had not been seen recently and it was not discounted that the culprit could have been a youth.

Final break in the case came when Allen was spotted in Titusville. He was picked up and held on a non-support case preferred by his wife in Sunset Heights, Crawford County.

The trio operated in a similar manner during all their jobs, including the robbery at Trueman Store and Post Office, Allen, being the smallest and using his teenager or Robshaw for a lookout, would break a window, then clamber in and open the door or pass out the loot. Occasionally, Allen or Robshaw would work alone.

Largest single haul was made at Fox Den lodge in Triumph Township where the family of Edmund Fox, Cleveland, had made preparations to go on vacation. Here the burglars took an estimated $500 worth of clothing, guns, luggage and other smaller items.

Quite a bit of the loot was uncovered at the Grand Valley home of Allen's mother, who said she had no idea the stuff was stolen. Other loot was picked up in the woods near Robshaw's who also said they had no idea it was stolen.

Allen was taken on a tour of his nocturnal visiting spots yesterday and pointed out 18 hunting camps he burglarized in Warren County alone. Robshaw is expected to be able to identify more Warren County lodges visited, and then the two will be taken on a tour of haunts in Forest, Venango and Crawford County.

The loot, estimated at "thousands of dollars", was called second in amount only to the $40,000 worth of valuables taken back in about 1946 by a "Phantom Burglar" who became known as such for his ability to scale buildings and enter without rousing animals. He did a stretch in Attica.

Allen was indicted last December by the Grand Jury on a larceny count for theft of lease equipment. He skipped bail Dec. 26 when he and his 17-year-old companion flew to Greenville, S. C. Robshaw was on parole for resisting arrest.

have indicated they want further time to study figures on unspent aid funds available from previous years. These figures were submitted to the committee yesterday, and copies of that transcript will not be available to committee members before tomorrow.

Johnson announced yesterday he will vote for restoration of at least some of the $809,650,000 in new aid funds slashed by the House. Johnson said he believed a majority of the Senate will support an adequate increase over House figures.

British, French and Canadian representatives yesterday that if they intend seriously to end nuclear tests they must renounce the link between that issue and the Western demand for an agreement to stop production of atomic explosions for military purposes.

U. S. officials, who went beyond the President's statement in explaining the Allied position, said the West is interested in halting atomic tests only as part of a package disarmament deal.

Plane Makes

Smithson, 35, San Mateo, Calif., decided to leave—without getting the brass ring.

They slid to safely down a rope dropped from an escape hatch.

The plane continued circling like a top for five more minutes while firemen extinguished the flames. Finally the plane came to a stop—by itself. Why, no one yet knows.

ANOTHER BIG ONE

New Process Company opened another one of its immensely popular warehouse sales this morning. Traffic parked on adjoining streets resembled a gathering for a July Fourth parade. At 7 a. m., two hours before opening time, the crowds were already beginning to spread away from the entrance. By opening time the lines, three and four abreast, extended from the warehouse back around on 3d street to the fire station and down Hickory street to the former Carver Hotel site. Sales continues through Saturday.

Pittsburgh, (P)—A federal judge yesterday signed an order formalizing an earlier ruling that upheld a photo ban in the Westmoreland County Courthouse.

In an opinion handed down Aug. 6, U. S. District Court Judge Wallace S. Gourley said the county court has the right to prohibit the use of cameras in the courtrooms and corridors at the courthouse in Greensburg.

Three newspaper executives, a reporter and three photographers deliberately violated the ban during the trial in 1954 of convicted Turnpike slayer John Wesley Wable who later was executed. The ban was set by Judge Edward C. Bauer.

The seven employees of the Greensburg Tribune - Review and Pittsburgh Post - Gazette, were cited for contempt of court and sentenced to five days in jail and fined.

The jail sentences were later lifted by the State Supreme Court, but the fines were allowed to stand.

Arrests End Trail of Embezzlement in Nation

Tulsa, Okla., (P)—A 51-year-old mother, who FBI authorities say weaved a fantastic trail of embezzlement through four states, Canada and Hawaii since 1939, was apprehended here because a doctor's receptionist spotted the woman's freckles.

Mrs. Margaret Lydia Burton was tabbed by the receptionist, Mrs. Juanita Heltwer, 36, as the woman she read about in a local newspaper who was being sought in connection with a $100,000 embezzlement of a Decatur, Ga., medical clinic last month.

Mrs. Burton, who the FBI says has used 22 aliases, was working as bookkeeper in the doctor's office here for about a week. She called herself Midge Barton in Tulsa.

The woman was arrested yesterday and charged with transporting stolen property in interstate commerce. She was placed in the county jail in lieu of $30,000 bond. Her daughter Sheila Joy Burton, 20, was arrested as a conspirator and failed to post $10,000 bond.

Fabrics Offer Added Elegance

The costume look, dear to American women, is high fashion this autumn. We show here three concepts of the costume, all by Abe Schrader. The Chanel look is interpreted (left) in a slim dress and easy jacket. The dress is wool jersey; the jacket is basket weave wool. Sheer wool dress in mint green (center) has matching jacket with ranch mink collar. This is a dress for daytime into evening wear. Wool jersey sheath (right) in taupe has small fitted jacket of the same fabric. Printed jersey is used for the dress. In all three designs, dresses can go places without jackets.

NEW YORK. (NEA)—The jacket dress, in supple fabrics and often with a generous helping of fur, is big autumn fashion. The jacket may be short and fitted to the waistline or hip-length and loose a la Chanel. Whichever, the dress beneath will be slim and curved easily to the body in sheer wool, wool jersey or lightweight silk-and-wool tweed. Fur trimmings make autumn's costumes luxurious and elegant. Collars of mink, raccoon, beaver, broadtail or fox give a look of opulence to the jacket dress whose lines are beautifully simple. The lining of the jacket usually follows out this feeling of richness. It may be in silk or silk crepe, matched perfectly to the sparkling red, blue, gold or green of the dress. Or it may be in a subtle, contrasting color.

Large Bequests Left to Methodist Organizations

Waynesburg, (P)—The late Mrs. Eva K. Bowby, wife of one of the founders of Universal Cyclops Steel Corp., has left thousands of dollars to Methodist church organizations.

In her will, filed in Greene County Courthouse yesterday, Mrs. Bowby bequeathed $8,000 for foreign missionary work of the Methodist church in Mexico and India. She also gave $5,000 to the First Methodist church of Waynesburg, and $5,000 to the Women's Christian Temperance Union. The remainder of the estate will go to the permanent annuity fund of the Church Union of the Pittsburgh Methodist Conference. The exact amount of the estate was not disclosed.

He died instantly of a fractured skull, crushed chest and broken leg. The death was ruled accidental by Mark Glenn, Erie County deputy coroner.

Mr. Hostettler, who operated the agency here for about three years, was a native of Erie. He once captained the Erie Academy High School football team, and attended Westminster College where he played football.

BY GAILE DUGAS, NEA Women's Editor
 The uses of the jacket dress are many, as American women have learned. They're perfect for afternoon wear and they can go on to dinner, the theater or a party. They make an additional wrap unnecessary on a crisp autumn evening. And, of course, the dress can be worn many places without jacket.

LIBERIAN TANKER EXPLODES—Just 30 miles from safe port in Gibraltar, the explosion-ravaged Liberian tanker World Splendor begins to sink under massive clouds of smoke. Five of the 32 survivors were hospitalized. None of the crew could explain the two explosions and flash fire which ripped the ship, bound from Persian Gulf to Southampton, England.

Stocks Up on Gasoline At 16.9 Cents Gallon

Johnstown, (P)—A farmer drove his truck into a Johnstown service station where a price war had reduced gasoline to 16.9 cents a gallon. On the truck were six 55-gallon drums. "Fill 'em up," he commanded. Then he asked for a receipt for the 330 gallons of gas. "Can't beat this price," he commented. "And I want the receipt in order to get my federal tax refund of six cents a gallon." That will reduce the price of his gasoline to 10.9 cents a gallon.

The speeding racers failed to make a curve and crashed through one fence and pushed the second fence on Mrs. Hanes.

Leading Milwaukee Braves Open Important Three-Game Series in Brooklyn Tonight

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

If Milwaukee's Braves have the National League pennant wrapped up, as some folks say, this is the time to put a ribbon on it. They open a three-game series against Brooklyn's Dodgers tonight at Ebbets Field.

The Braves broke up the log jam in the race by winning 10 in a row and jolted two contenders in the process, plunking the St. Louis Cardinals out of the lead and crashing Cincinnati out of the race. The Dodgers climbed within a percentage point of second-place St. Louis yesterday by rapping Cincinnati 8-0 as Don Newcombe (10-10) finally got back into the act with a five-hitter for his first victory and complete game since July 12.

The Cardinals, who had won four in a row, were chopped down 13-6 by the New York Giants.

Those were the only two games scheduled in the NL and left the Cards and Dodgers both 6½ games behind the Braves.

In the American, New York's lead was trimmed to six games as the Kansas City A's made it two in a row over the Yankees, 6-3, and Chicago's second-place White Sox walloped Washington 12-6. Boston beat Cleveland 3-1 and Baltimore defeated Detroit 9-3.

Boston's Ted Williams and Yankee Mickey Mantle were hitless for the second straight day in their battle for the bat title. Williams 0-for-4 has a .385 average, Mantle 0-for-3 is .378.

Newk, last season's Most Valuable Player in the National and the majors' pitcher of the year at 27-7, had lost four in a row since beating Cincinnati last month. He struck out six and walked one. Frank Robinson had three of the Redleg hits.

Gino Cimoli clinched it with a three-run homer in the third off Hal Jeffcoat. The Dodgers, who had 11 hits, then counted five in the seventh.

CROSSING HIS BRIDGES

Lop-Sided Heavyweight Bout Set for 11:30 EST Tonight

By JACK HEWINS

Seattle (P)—This is the day the self-made Cinderella man, Pete Rademacher, goes to the fistic ball with King Floyd Patterson to learn if his dreams are made of dust or diamonds.

Only the weatherman was predicting anything fair about this 15-round fight for the heavyweight championship of the world. A majority if not quite all of the ring-wise observers have protested that the big, genial farm boy is leading himself to a slaughter.

This first heavyweight title fight between an amateur—Rademacher—and a professional—Patterson—is scheduled to take over the spotlight at 1 a. m., EST, but Pete may not have to wait so long for the verdict.

Promoter Jack Hurley said he might start the main show any time after 8:30 p. m. (11:30 EST) "if all the customers are seated." This, he said, would be a bow to readers of eastern newspapers, who otherwise would have to wait until shortly before dawn to learn the outcome.

The fight will not be broadcast, Hurley has ruled an air-wave blackout until the fight is over.

The entire Sicks' Seattle Stadium is likely to be crammed to its 25,000 capacity with $400,000 worth of paying customers. Many, many of these disagree with the expert opinion that Rademacher's survival will be short under the impact of the champion's slashing fists.

Rademacher, 28, goes into the ring with a weight advantage of some 25 pounds. The 210-pounder has almost spindly legs for such a large man, but he is massive in torso, shoulders and biceps. He can hit his string of more than 30 knockouts attests to that.

He also can be hit. Pete has been knocked out twice in his amateur career of 79 bouts.

WILLIAMS HITLESS

Cleveland, (P) — Ted Williams was held hitless last night but his teammate, Jim Piersall, hit a two-run homer in the third inning which gave the Boston Red Sox a 3-1 victory over the Cleveland Indians. The victory snapped a five-game losing streak for Boston.

Hambletonian Other Side Of Harness Race Picture

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—There were 32,000 people at Roosevelt Raceway, the sweeping, modern chunk of night trotting track that has New Yorkers excited. The crowd—a splash of short-sleeved sports shirts in the grandstand, dark suits and white-on-white shirts in the clubhouse—kept mutual clerks steadily pressing buttons all night.

This is modern trotting. The people who send it in know little about the standardbred horse racing business. For example, during a strike of horsemen at Yonkers Raceway the few horses around ran in two races each so the card could be filled. Most didn't notice it. They just kept betting.

Only a few can give a correct definition of the difference between a trotter and pacer. And the word Hambletonian is hazy. "It has something to do with trotting," a fan will beam.

WHICH WAS WHAT Del Miller was talking about. Miller was on the phone from Sedalia, Mo., where he is racing Prince Lullwater into shape for a crack at the Hambletonian, the $100,000 major league test of harness racing, Aug. 27 at the Du Quoin, Ill., State Fair.

"This is the other side of harness racing," Miller was saying. "You're in New York or Chicago or any of the other places where they have night tracks and it is a big betting game. People like to have a pop bottle at you when you lose. But it's big and flashy and exciting and we need it."

"But out here, people come to the race just to see a race. There's no betting on the Hambletonian, you know. Even if you finish last you get an ovation when you come back in front of the stands."

"THERE'S TWO SIDES to the business these days and it's refreshing to be around both."

The Hambletonian is a sprawling affair for horsemen this year. With only John Simpson's Hickory Smoke coming close to being a standout, the field is expected to be full. There could be as many as 17 or 18 three-year-olds entered.

A half dozen are given a sound chance of winning. Along with Hickory Smoke, there is Hoot Song, Cassin Hanover, Flicka Frost—all fillies—Storm Crowd, Buckeye Demon and Philip Frost.

To win, a horse must win two mile heats. If different horses win the first two heats, all horses come back for a third heat. If another horse wins this one, only the three heat winners return for a fourth and final mile. Run about an hour apart, the mile heats don't bother the tough standardbreds.

In former years, the Hambletonian was run in the first week of August at Goshen, N.Y. Three weeks later this year, it makes for even more solid racing, Miller says.

"EVERY HORSE IN THIS year's race has been tested a lot," he was pointing out. "Take my Prince Lullwater. I won't have to do anything special with him in the way of training. This is no early season race, so there's no problem of conditioning. He's run plenty."

"We'll get to Du Quoin the Wednesday before the race and the next day jog three or four miles. Then on Friday, I'll work him four different miles. We'll start at 2:30, then come down to 2:30, then 2:20 and 2:15. After that, we'll just hang around, jog a bit Monday and Tuesday, the 27th, we're ready to race."

"And the people'll be out there hollering and rooting. Not a bet to be made. Plenty of clapping for the loser."

"Then I'll turn around and go to Roosevelt Raceway right after it and first time I lose one there I'll hear some guy telling me about my breeding. It's the same business in both places—harness racing—but you'd never know it if you saw both sides."

Many Area Drivers To Figure In Skyline Races Sunday Night

Dean Layfield, the Wellsville, N. Y., driver, who is known as "Mr. Stockcar", has certainly been living up to the name these past few weeks. Dean has had two seconds and two wins, in the last four feature starts, at Skyline Speedway and has also kept on top, in the preliminary events, with two semifinals to his credit, in as many weeks. However, Layfield, who broke up the winning streak of Jamestown Joe Sauner and started one of his own, does have a nemesis in the form of Johnny "Madman" McGinley, dogging his tail pipes. This popular Clarion stock car pilot, who has finished second behind Layfield's famous No. 9/16 the last couple of weeks, should be due to break into the winner's circle, just as that Wellsville driver did. We think that this Sunday night just be the time.

The Jalopy Division events, which have previously been won by a number of drivers, have begun to produce some stars, these past four weeks. Foremost of these, is Chuck Martin, of Russell, who has the last two features and placed third in the two previous ones. He also has had a couple of heat races to his credit, during that period.

As has been the policy, at this Sugar Grove oval, the past few weeks, a $500 cash prize will be awarded to the fan clever enough to predict the first three finishers, in the Late Model Division feature. Although four fans divided the prize two weeks ago, there were no winners last Sunday. Auto racing is not an easy thing to predict, Jamestown—Two of matdom's biggest and toughest clash in the main event of a Friday night wrestling card at Municipal Stadium here when Yukon Eric, the 300-pound Alaskan, comes to grips with Baron Gattoni, 275-pound ex-Italian nobleman.

It is one of the most ambitious matches ever attempted in Jamestown with two other all-star matches supporting the main event. Thus far, Promoter Carl Godert has paired Sammy (Mr. Canada) Berg and Steve (Mr. America) Stansless in a "battle of the bodies" for the semi. One other bout will complete the card.

Speaking of Sports ...

Toby Lyons, Moon Brook Country Club pro, has been named to play on the challenge team against the Ryder Cup unit at Wanakah Country Club, Buffalo, according to a Buffalo source. Lyons said he knows he is being considered for the honor but has received no official confirmation. "Definitely being named is all news as far as I am concerned, but I would consider it a great honor," Lyons said. The Challenge team is captained by Sam Snead and will be made up, in addition to him and Lyons, of some of the nation's top pros. The matches are Sept. 21-22 with a pro-member tournament and clinic preceding them Sept. 20. Lyons made one of his unannounced but victorious forays to a foreign course Monday, winning the low pro in Pro-Member competition with his 66. Lyons also teamed with Charlie Paris of Silver Lakes to win the Pro-Pro with a best ball 63 in the Hornell Tournament.
